

HSSE LIBRARY

FALL 2008 WORKSHOPS

Tuesdays 3:30-5:00 p.m.

Wednesdays 3:30-5:00 p.m.

All Workshops to be held in the CSC

---

September 2 & 3: Using Endnote with Humanities Databases. Professor Robert Freeman

Learn how to use the EndNote citation management program to build your bibliographies and insert citations in MS Word documents.

September 9 & 10: Copyright. Professor Donna Ferullo

Understanding and applying copyright in your research and teaching.

September 16 & 17: Can I get it Online? Professor Robert Freeman

Find full-text journal articles and books online with JSTOR, Project MUSE, Google Books, etc.

September 23 & 24: Finding Dissertations. Professor Jean-Pierre Herubel

Ins and outs of locating dissertations both free and for a fee!

September 30 & October 1: Multidisciplinary Databases: Art, Communication, Philosophy Professor Jean-Pierre Herubel

Thinking across databases in a multidisciplinary approach.

October 7: Secrets of the Online Catalog. Robert Freeman

Basic instruction for the individual new to Purdue will help even experienced researchers save time.

October 8: Megasearch. Professors Judith Nixon and Kristine Anderson

Search across several databases at once!

October 15: Organize Early, Organize Often. Professor Kristine Anderson

Strategies to build your personal research library and use it to enhance your graduate school experience.

October 21: WorldCat, Wikipedia. Professor Larry Mykytiuk

Harness the all-enveloping power of these and other databases that purport to list “everything”—and make them work for you.

HSSE LIBRARY

FALL 2008 WORKSHOPS

Tuesdays 3:30-5:00 p.m.

Wednesdays 3:30-5:00 p.m.

All Workshops to be held in the CSC

---

October 22: Google in-Depth. Professor Larry Mykytiuk

Explore the amazing dimensions and awesome directions of the world's greatest search engine and the projects it has spawned!

October 28: U.S. Election Research. Professor Bert Chapman

Learn how to find and use government and nongovernment resources to conduct U.S. federal and state election campaign research.

October 29: Government Documents on Energy. Professor Bert Chapman

Learn how to find and use United States, foreign, and international government organization documents to conduct energy public policy and scientific research.

November 4: Contemporary Government Statistics. Professor Bert Chapman.

Learn about the variety of statistical resources produced by U.S. federal and state governments and foreign and international government organizations.

November 5: Congressional Serial Set. Professor Bert Chapman

Learn multiple ways of searching the online version of this resource to find primary source.

November 11: Best Databases for Education. Professor Judith Nixon

Find articles, ERIC documents and testing instruments in the primary databases for research in education.

November 12: Center for Research Libraries. Professors Kristine Anderson & Larry Mykytiuk.

Learn about this valuable source of unusual and notable global collections available to the Purdue Community on a cooperative basis.

November 18: Full-Text History Databases. Professor Larry Mykytiuk

Not sure which of Purdue's over fifty history databases to use? Here is guidance you can use.

November 19: Company Annual Reports as Historical Data. Professors Larry Mykytiuk and Judith Nixon.

Company Annual Reports sent to stock holders contain a wealth of historic information about the company, the industry and the social situation. Learn how to find these online, on microfiche or from our large print collection.